SHAREPOINT360 PARTICIPATES IN MICROSOFT'S OFFICIAL LAUNCH EVENT

Business Productivity Solutions Provider Partakes in Official Launch Festivities for Microsoft Office 2010 and Microsoft SharePoint 2010

San Diego – June 28, 2010 – SharePoint360 celebrated the arrival of Microsoft SharePoint 2010 by participating in the official launch event where the company was included in the launch video as well as taking part in community-driven SharePoint events.

SharePoint360, a Microsoft Gold Certified Partner, participated in the official Microsoft Office 2010 and SharePoint 2010 business launch, held May 12 at NBC Studios at Rockefeller Plaza in New York. SharePoint360 participated by taking part in activities throughout the event. SharePoint, one of Microsoft's fastest selling products, is a Web 2.0 software that increases organizational collaboration and efficiency through content management and enterprise search features.

The global business launch event was simultaneously broadcast live on the Web as Stephen Elop, president of the Microsoft Business Division, announced the next wave of productivity. Elop's keynote presentation included a live Q&A session.

"For me, it is the ability of Microsoft Office 2010 to empower end users to develop meaningful analysis of data quickly and easily. Tools like Microsoft SQL Server PowerPivot for Excel, Microsoft SharePoint Workspace 2010 and Microsoft Office Web Apps combine to allow end users to not only create significant content but also the ability to share it without the traditional boundaries. Office 2010 changes and expands the end user's role with relevant active participation under a unified umbrella," said Paul West, co-founder and principal at SharePoint360.

After the official launch, SharePoint360 is partnering with Managed Solution and Softchoice to host a free bowling event on June 17 covering the new features of SharePoint 2010 and Office 2010.
