SHAREPOINT360 EXPANDS EXECUTIVE TEAM WITH NEW CTO/CIO

Ed Goddin Joins Leading Business Productivity Solutions Provider

SAN DIEGO – Feb. 23, 2009 – SharePoint360, the premiere provider of business productivity consulting and hosting solutions, continues to build its leadership team by adding Ed Goddin as its new chief technology and information officer. Goddin, most recently vice president of Information Technology at Intuit, will be responsible for strategic planning, implementation and support for the IT needs of the growing company.

“Adding Ed to our executive team is a big step forward,” said Paul West, co-founder and principal of SharePoint360. “His broad IT experience will play a critical role in shaping SharePoint360’s development in the next few years. As we grow, we want to insure that we maintain and expand the top-level services our customers have come to expect and Ed will be an integral part of that process.”

As vice president of IT at Intuit, Goddin provided executive leadership to a staff of 240. He engineered the turnaround of the IT division’s performance and service levels, enabling it to become a strategic business partner to Intuit’s family of business. Prior to that, he was executive vice president of IT for IndyMac Bank. He has also held technology leadership positions at Accenture, Wells Fargo & Company and First Interstate Bank.

“This is a wonderful opportunity and a great time for me to join SharePoint360,” said Goddin. “The company is doing really interesting things with collaborative technology, especially from a consulting angle. I’m looking forward to using my IT knowledge and leadership skills to help shepherd the company through its next stage of growth.”

Mr. Goddin holds a Bachelor of Arts with a concentration in business administration from Grove City College and a master’s in business administration from New Hampshire College. He resides in San Diego with his wife and three children.
